A correctly signed and completed Boat Lifting Consent Form (Form), together with the Company's Terms and Conditions, shall constitute a binding Contract between the Company and the Customer (Contract). The Customer represents and warrants to the Company that the boat identified within the Form (Boat) is in all material respects suitable for and, to the best of the Customer's knowledge, can withstand the lifting from and/or launch into the water by the Company in the agreed fashion. By lifting the Boat, the Company makes no representation or guarantee to the Customer of the Boats' suitability for the lifting operation and/or launch into the water. The Company shall under no circumstances whatsoever be liable to the Customer, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), breach of statutory duty, or otherwise, for any indirect or consequential loss arising under or in connection with the Contract, or for any loss or profit, and the terms implied by sections 3 to 5 of the Supply of Goods and Services Act 1982 are, to the fullest extent permitted by law, excluded from the Contract. Nothing in these Conditions shall limit or exclude the Company's liability for any death or personal injury caused by its negligence, or the negligence of its employees or agents; fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation; or any other liability prohibited from exclusion in law.
